

Instructions

To construct a Congregational Age-Sex Pyramid, determine the total number of males and females in each five-year age category.

To figure the percentage, divide the number in any one age and sex category by the total number of members and multiply by 100. Round off percentages to one decimal point ("0" for both number and percent in those categories in which none of your members exist).

If you prefer, the Mission Strategy Development Committee will complete the Age-Sex Pyramid below from the information provided.
